GMAI-OUTREACH-TIM-DICETOWER-20260225-1202

From: Bard (CoS)

To: Tim

Priority: High — send before Dice Tower West (March 11)

Overview

Three emails to send this week. Order of priority: Stonemaier first (highest chance of a fast yes), Asmodee second, DTW exhibitor inquiry third.

These emails do not pitch the product aggressively. They open a conversation and get a name. The convention does the rest.

Email 1 — Stonemaier Games

To: contact@stonemaier.com
Subject: Partnership inquiry — GameMaster Guide (board game teaching app for cafes)

Hi Jamey,

I'm Tim Pham, founder of GameMaster Guide — a voice-interactive app that teaches board games to customers at board game cafes. It runs on tablets at gaming tables and walks groups through setup, rules, and strategy using AI, reducing the staff teaching burden so venues can serve more customers.

I'm reaching out because Stonemaier games are some of the most-requested titles at cafes, and Wingspan in particular is exactly the kind of game that benefits from guided teaching. A lot of new players want to try it, but it sits on the shelf because staff don't have time to walk every table through setup.

We're preparing to launch in Las Vegas and are building the foundation of a formal publisher partnership program. I'd love to include Stonemaier games in the app — with your content reviewed and approved rather than us working from reconstructed rules.

I'll be at Dice Tower West in Las Vegas March 11–15 if you or anyone from your team will be there. Happy to show you a live demo. Or if a quick email exchange is easier, I'm happy to send over more detail and a demo link.

No pressure — just wanted to make first contact before the convention.

Best,
Tim Pham
GameMaster Guide
tim.minh.pham@gmail.com
playgmai.com

Email 2 — Asmodee North America

To: inquiries@asmodeena.com
Subject: Publisher partnership inquiry — GameMaster Guide

Hi,

I'm Tim Pham, founder of GameMaster Guide, a voice-interactive app that teaches board games to customers at board game cafes. The app runs on tablets at gaming tables and uses AI to guide groups through setup, rules, and in-game questions — reducing staff burden and helping customers learn Asmodee titles faster.

Ticket to Ride, Pandemic, Carcassonne, and Catan are consistently the most-requested games at the cafes we're working with in Las Vegas. These are exactly the titles that define the "gateway gamer" experience, and they're also the ones where a good teaching moment makes the difference between a customer who tries the game once and one who buys it.

We're building a publisher partnership program and would like to include Asmodee titles with your review and approval — ensuring the content is accurate and aligns with how you want your games represented.

I'll be attending Dice Tower West in Las Vegas (March 11–15) and would welcome a conversation if anyone from Asmodee will be at the event. I'm also happy to send a demo link or set up a brief call at your convenience.

Thank you for your time.

Best,
Tim Pham
GameMaster Guide
tim.minh.pham@gmail.com
playgmai.com

Email 3 — Dice Tower West Exhibitor Inquiry

To: Dice Tower West exhibitor inquiry form at dicetowerwest.com/exhibitors
Subject: Exhibitor Inquiry — GameMaster Guide (Demo Table Request)

Hi,

I'm reaching out to ask about exhibitor table availability at Dice Tower West 2026.

I'm building a product called GameMaster Guide — a voice-interactive app that teaches board game rules and setup to players in real time. I'm Las Vegas-based and already working with several local game shops in the area.

Since this is a digital product (not a physical board game), I'd only need a small table with power access to run live demos on a tablet. I don't need a full booth or display setup.

I'm two weeks out — I understand that's late. If a full exhibitor slot isn't available, I'd also be interested in any last-minute demo space, open gaming table access, or community showcase options.

Could you let me know what's available, the pricing for smaller setups, and any deadlines?

Thank you,
Tim Pham
GameMaster Guide
tim.minh.pham@gmail.com

Send Order & Timing

#	To	Send By	Why
1	Stonemaier	Today or tomorrow	Jamey is known to respond personally and quickly. A yes before March 11 becomes a talking point at the convention.
2	Asmodee	This week	Larger org — slower response. Earlier is better.
3	DTW Exhibitors	Today	Two weeks out is late. The sooner they know you're interested, the better the chance of last-minute space.

After You Send

Let me know when each goes out and I'll track responses. If Stonemaier responds before Dice Tower, I'll draft a follow-up proposal. Any publisher yes — even a soft "sounds interesting, let's talk" — gets their games added to the approved library before the convention if there's time.